

intra

Hyperbaric Oxygen Technology

GOODBYE FINE LINES, HELLO AGE DEFYING SKIN 11.30.09

Author: LGM

 Sign in to Add this to Your Bag!

INTRACEUTICALS OXYGEN FACIAL

Now that the holiday season is in full swing, there is not a second to lose. Your skin needs to look its best 24/7. The holidays come once a year, and with the onslaught of parties, get togethers, and family obligations, thank goodness it is only once a year. Nevertheless, it can be difficult to attain glowing skin anytime of year. Combine end of the year deadlines with the pressure of the holidays, throw in some wintry, dry weather, and you have a recipe for a skin disaster. Is it possible to have luminous skin throughout these crazy times? The answer, thankfully, is yes, and comes in the form of the Intraceuticals Oxygen Facial. This facial, unlike oxygen facials of past generations, gives you immediate and noticeable results that beg for a night on the town.

First step, locate a spa in your area offering this incredible facial. Make sure it is truly the Intraceuticals Oxygen Facial. It provides a cooling, calming, topical hyperbaric oxygen application that infuses moisture, vitamins, and antioxidants into the skin. Don't worry, the term "hyperbaric oxygen application" might sound scary, but in truth it is a very soothing, 50 min treatment, that leaves your skin, well, in a word glowing. The esthetician uses a small wand in multiple passes over your face, and it feels like very (very) gentle suction. The woman who did my facial did half of my face first so I could compare the treated side to the non-treated side. It is true, mirrors don't lie. When I looked in the mirror and saw how the fine lines were dramatically reduced, and my skin looked plump and rejuvenated, I was very excited for her to do the other side of my face.

I have had plenty of facials in my time. I have sensitive skin and more times than I would like to recall, I have left a facial looking like I just had some sort of odd torture session done to my face. Not with this facial. After this facial, you and your gorgeous skin will need to hit the scene. This facial, with its instant and visible results, requires a night out. You cannot go home and sit on the couch after this facial. The payoff is truly incredible. Put it this way, after my oxygen facial I was WISHING I had a high school reunion to go to that night. It is that good!

Lucky ladies in the Chicagoland area can book one or a series of Intraceuticals oxygen facials at Dr. Steven Dayan's Watertown location. The 50 minute facial, performed in the relaxing treatment room pictured above, will run you $200, but if you book a series of six facials, Dr. Dayan's True Skin Center will give you $400 worth of products to coordinate with, support, and extend the benefits of your facial. The products include hyaluronic acid (HA) based moisture binding cream, HA based contour eye gel, and HA gel.

FINAL VERDICT: RDW (RUN DON'T WALK) Sound too good to be true? It gets better. This is the facial that keeps Madonna's facial looking like porcelain. This is the facial that Justin Timberlake and Eva Longoria swear by. This facial is a must for all brides and mother's of the bride. Believe it or not, this facial can even be performed on sun burnt skin. Come to think of it, this facial is for anytime of year, not just the holidays. But can you think of a better gift for yourself?

USA, December 2009